External Rate Guidelines, University Animal Care (UAC)

All services rendered and products sold to external customers, including animals, shall incur a fee structure higher than that of University of Arizona investigators.

The prices set by University Animal Care for external customers are higher than those of University of Arizona Investigators because they represent a fully-burdened and unsubsidized cost of our business. UAC's ability to offer these products and services to external customers has only been granted by the Office of the Vice President for Research because we have provided reassurances that we will pass on the full cost of our operations.

External is defined by payment mechanism. If a University of Arizona 7-digit UAccess Financials Account is used to pay an invoice and said invoice is processed using a University of Arizona accounting entry (IB, SB, or GL Collector) then the customer is considered internal. All other users are considered external, meaning they are paying by cash, check, wire, ACH, or credit card.
